Hi Maureen – A couple of edits to the landing page that are relatively small. See the highlighted areas below and the “red” text for the specific revision areas.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks Maureen, I will look into the comments from the contractor. I think they are mistaken on the last two points, but I will confirm and write back. For now I would recommend they keep the text as is.

Also, can someone tell me what the "EC" is referring to in the second bullet?

Importance: High

Hi folks,

Here is the staging site for the BaP chemical landing page. Included with the link I have left some comments from my contractors (and my responses). Let me know if you have any questions. Cheers, Maureen
